

CURRICULUM VITAE

Prof. DDr. h.c. Monika Henzinger

Born in 1966

Personal information

Married, 3 children

© Lilly Strauss

Education

- 1993 PhD in Computer Science at Princeton University, NJ, USA
- 1989 Graduation: Computer Science at the University of Saarland, Germany

Professional Experience

- Seit 2023: Professor at Institute of Science and Technology, Austria
- 2021: Sabbatical as visiting professor at Stanford University, CA, USA
- 2015: Sabbatical as guest scientist on Simons Institute at University of California in Berkeley, CA, USA
- 2009-2023: Professor of Computer Science at the University of Vienna, Head of research group Theory and Applications of Algorithms
- 2005-2009: Professor of Computer Science at the Ecole Polytechnique Federale de Lausanne, Head of research group Theory and Applications of Algorithms
- 2000-2004: Head of research division at Google Inc., Mountain View, CA, USA
- 1996-1999: Scientist at Digital Equipment Corporation, Palo Alto, CA, USA
- 1993-1996: Assistant professor of computer science at Cornell University, Ithaca, NY, USA

Supervisory board mandates and other relevant functions

- since 2024: Vice president for Technology transfer at Institute of Science and Technology Austria
- Since 2023: Member of the supervisory board of UNIQA Versicherungsverein Privatstiftung
- 2020-2022: Member of Swiss Science Council (Schweizer Wissenschaftsrat)
- 2019-2021: Member of Austrian Science Council
- Since 2018: Member of the supervisory board of ams OSRAM AG